from the Laboratory, therefore, cannot serve as direct evidence for the individual degree of influence.

Exhaust vehicle fume-gassing is not recommended by any scientific or veterinary community anywhere in the world because it is inhumane.

That's not much higher than trying at home, but it can be helpful for couples with low sperm motility.